Hanan Mahmoud Al-nakeeb

00971569835331

E-mail: hmnakeeb@hotmail.com

objectives: believing that we have very important goal in our life, and Allah create us to benefit each other, so I am looking for life more than great, involving enjoyable and creative work with learning and research, doctors have critical role in this life and they should to be more than a doctor.

Qualifications:

MBBS from AL-Fayoum university with general grade: very good with honor.

Diploma in hospital management from AL-Fayoum university with general grade: very good.

First part of master degree in Radio-diagnosis from Al-Azhar University.

Master's Thesis titled by: Role of magnetic resonance imaging in diagnosis of non-traumatic knee lesions.

Medical courses and certificates:

Pelvi-abdominal ultrasound course.

Basic life support course (3 CME hours)

Infection control course

Health care quality orientation course (18 hours).

Medical research course (from 8th to 16th of April 2013).

Good medical practice conference.

An update of viral hepatitis conference.

Updates in cardiovascular medicine conference.

Won the third place in EMSA presentology day competition (presentation day about leukaemia's).

Other certificates:

The Ideal student at Egyptian universities (certificated from ministry of higher education).

Participate in 3`Sharjah Prize for the youth of the Egyptian universities.

The Lovely character of medical class November 2014.

Self-confidence course.

Many certificates of appreciation in literary field.

Participate in the practice of student activity workshop.

Microsoft office course.

ICDL.

Egyptian driving license since 2010

Employment history and experience:

Radiologist at Al-Sadr hospital (hospital related to Egyptian ministry of health)

From: 21/6/2017 to 11/7/2020.

Radiologist at Al-Fayoum scan centre, from February 2020 till October 2020.

-About 2 years of general practitioner experience.

Head of primary health care unit under the administration of Egyptian ministry of health from April 2016 till Jan 2017

Responsibilities: routinely check-up for school students, family planning, family medicine, antenatal care and participate in many medical convoys, doing minor surgeries: abscess, paronychia. Using cryocautery and Electrocautery as in wart.

-House officer at Fayoum university hospital from March 2015 till March 2016.

During the internship I have worked at the following departments:

Internal medicine, surgery, ophthalmology, blood bank, gynaecology and obstetrics, paediatrics, I.C.U and emergency.

Observer ship at dermatology department

Egyptian medical license.

Achievements:

President of Fayoum medical student association (FMSA) which is very important organization has many branches in Egypt and about 19 national universities.

Responsibilities: chairperson responsible to decide which event will take place, share the group (which includes mora than 100 members) in precisely planning to the event and provide training to new members.

Member of free drug bank organization, which is responsible for giving free medications to patients who cannot afford.

Member of friends of thalassaemic patients' association, which provide health care orientation about the disease and blood donation for the patients.

Additional activities:

Wrote more than twenty articles in Alraya newspaper.

Interview with Dr: Mohamed kamal assistant professor of histopathology department at California University, which published in the scientific magazine in the medical college.

Interview with captain Mohamed AlAidaros published in Alarb Alyoum page.

Introduce many scientific conferences and social events.

Participate in many galleries with great paintings, and have many prizes in this field.

Had Certificates of Appreciation in chess, tennis table and basketball competitions.

Organise many social and volunteer events.

Skills:

(Faithfull, honest, communication skills, self-confidence, good leader, active creative member working with the team, continues learning and research, clever in teaching, working under stress).